In 2016, Sandro followed his dream and changed career to become a pizza chef. He built a mobile wood-fired pizza oven-from the bed of the trailer, to the finishing tiles-by hand in the backyard of his home, while simultaneously developing his recipe for a naturally leavened dough. In the summer of 2017 Sandro opened his first restaurant in Dublin city center which was immediately recognized by the customers. Being a master himself now, and by using only the best and freshest ingredients, his pizza became one of the most
